Elon Musk

by Walter Isaacson

Shadowing the rule-breaking billionaire for two years and drawing on interviews with his family, friends, coworkers and adversaries, the author presents the revealing inside story of a tough yet vulnerable man-child and visionary who ushered in the dawn of electric vehicles, private space exploration and artificial intelligence—and took over Twitter. (biography & autobiography)

Father and Son : a memoir

by Jonathan Raban

The award-winning novelist recalls both his own recovery after a massive stroke, as well his father's experiences in World War II, and shows how the human spirit can adapt to trauma.

Coming Later This Month

The Big Time : how the 1970s Transformed Sports in America

by Michael MacCambridge

This epic narrative of how American sports was transformed in the 70s shows how these changes could be seen in the collective experience of Billie Jean King and Muhammad Ali, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Joe Greene, among others, as games invaded prime time and how spectator sports became what they are today. Illustrations.

Going Infinite : the Rise and Fall of a New Tycoon

by Michael Lewis

The #1 best-selling author of The Big Short, Flash Boys and Moneyball returns with the inside story of enigmatic CEO Sam Bankman-Fried and the spectacular collapse of his cryptocurrency exchange, FTX. Illustrations.

How to Say Babylon

by Safiya Sinclair

This stunning story of the author's struggle to break free of her strict Rastafarian upbringing ruled by a father whose rigid beliefs, rage and paranoia led to violence shows how found her own power and provides a unique glimpse into a rarefied world we know little about.
